REGISTRATION STANDARD: LIMITED REGISTRATION IN PUBLIC INTEREST

Summary

This registration standard sets out the Medical Board of Australia's (the Board) requirements for an application for, and renewal of, limited registration in public interest.

Does this standard apply to me?

This standard applies to individuals who apply for:

- limited registration in public interest, or
- renewal of limited registration in public interest.

Individuals who are qualified for general registration and/or specialist registration are not eligible for limited registration.

Limited registration in public interest is not an alternative to limited registration for area of need. This type of registration must not be used to circumvent the requirement for Ministerial declaration of an area of need. Individuals seeking to practise in an area of need are required to apply for limited registration for area of need and should refer to the registration standard for this type of registration.

What must I do?

When you apply for registration

To meet this registration standard, you must:

1. meet the requirements in the Board's approved registration standards for:
 - a. English language skills
 - b. recency of practice
 - c. professional indemnity insurance arrangements, and
 - d. continuing professional development
2. comply with the Board's proof of identity policy as published on either the Board or the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) websites
3. provide evidence of having been awarded a primary degree in medicine and surgery, after completing an approved course of study at a medical school listed in the current International Medical Education Directory (IMED) (online only) of the Foundation for Advancement of International Medical Education and Research (FAIMER), or other publications approved by the Australian Medical Council (AMC) and/or the Board. An approved course of study means that you must be able to demonstrate that you have completed a medical curriculum of at least four academic years (full-time equivalent), leading to an entitlement to registration in the country issuing the degree to practise clinical medicine
4. provide evidence that you have applied for, or have the results of, primary source verification of medical qualifications from the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG) International Credentials Service (EICS)
5. provide evidence of successful completion of a medical internship or comparable. The Board may issue guidance on what defines a comparable medical internship
6. provide a curriculum vitae that meets the standard format that has been approved by the Board
7. provide details of past registration history:
 - a. You are also required to arrange for the Board to receive certificates of good standing/registration status (or equivalent type of certificate) from each registration authority that you have been registered with in the previous 10 years. The certificates should be supplied, where possible, directly to the Board from the relevant registration authority
8. satisfactorily complete a criminal history check in accordance with guidance issued from time to time by the Board or AHPRA
9. provide the following information from your proposed employer or sponsor (if not in an employment relationship):
 - a. written confirmation of offer of employment or other engagement

REGISTRATION STANDARD: LIMITED REGISTRATION IN PUBLIC INTEREST

- b. endorsement of your reasons for why it is in the public interest to register you
- c. employer or sponsor contact details
- d. position description including key selection criteria addressing clinical responsibilities and qualifications and experience required to meet the requirements of the position
- e. name, qualifications and contact details of the proposed principal supervisor and any co-supervisors
- f. if the period of registration is for more than four weeks, a supervision plan prepared in accordance with the Board's guidelines for supervision of international medical graduates. The supervision plan includes details about the supervisor/s and will describe how supervision will be provided to ensure safe practice. It will also include written confirmation from the proposed principal supervisor that they agree to provide supervision and to comply with supervision obligations as required by the Board (if the period of registration is for less than four weeks, supervision is required but a detailed supervision plan does not need to be submitted), and
- g. a plan for continuing professional development activities in accordance with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development, if registration is for more than four weeks

10. detail why it is in the public interest to register you.

All documents submitted to support an application for limited registration must comply with the requirements for certifying and translating documents as published on either the Board or AHPRA websites.

If you have previously been or are currently registered in a health profession in Australia under the National Scheme and have therefore provided information to a Board previously, some of the documentation requirements in this standard may be waived.

During the registration period

You are required to comply with a range of requirements while you have limited registration in public interest. These include:

1. compliance with the supervision plan approved by the Board
2. compliance with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development
3. ensuring that your supervisor/s provide regular reports to the Board regarding your work performance as described in the Board's guidelines for supervision of international medical graduates
4. performing satisfactorily in the position for which you were registered to practise
5. restricting your practice to the Board approved position/s, and
6. working towards meeting the requirements for general or specialist registration if you intend to apply for more than three renewals of registration.

If you do not maintain your employment in the Board approved position for which limited registration in public interest was granted, you are unable to comply with the requirements on your practice and therefore cannot practise medicine until registration is granted for a new position.

When you apply for renewal

When you apply to renew your limited registration, you must:

1. complete a renewal of registration application that includes the annual renewal statement in accordance with the provisions in the National Law, section 109
2. demonstrate compliance with any conditions or undertakings imposed on your registration or requirements on your registration set by the Board
3. submit work performance reports in accordance with the Board's guidelines for the supervision of international medical graduates

REGISTRATION STANDARD: LIMITED REGISTRATION IN PUBLIC INTEREST

4. demonstrate that you have performed satisfactorily in the preceding registration period. This is usually demonstrated through the submission of work performance reports. The Board may also require you to complete an examination and/or assessment to demonstrate satisfactory performance
5. demonstrate that there is an ongoing 'public interest' reason to renew your registration, and
6. provide evidence that you are satisfactorily progressing towards meeting the requirements for general or specialist registration. You are exempt from this requirement if you will not apply for more than three renewals of registration.

Refusal to renew limited registration

The Board may refuse to renew your registration if:

1. you are no longer in the position for which registration was granted by the Board
2. you do not comply with the Board approved supervised practice plan and the Board's requirements for supervision
3. you do not comply with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development
4. significant or multiple deficiencies are identified in your practice by the Board, or
5. your circumstances have changed and there is no 'public interest' reason to register you under this type of registration.

Period of limited registration

Up to 12 months of registration can be granted by the Board. The National Law states that limited registration may not be renewed more than three times. After three renewals of limited registration a medical practitioner who wishes to continue to practise will have to make a new application for registration.

What happens if I don't meet this standard?

The National Law establishes possible consequences if you don't meet this standard, including that:

- the Board can impose a condition or conditions on your registration or can refuse your application for registration or renewal of registration, if you do not meet a requirement in an approved registration standard for the profession (sections 82, 83 and 112 of the National Law), and
- registration standards, codes or guidelines may be used in disciplinary proceedings against you as evidence of what constitutes appropriate practice or conduct for the health profession (section 41 of the National Law).

If a practitioner with limited registration breaches any of the requirements of this registration standard, or any of the Board's registration standards, codes or guidelines, the Board may take action in respect of health, performance or conduct under Part 8 of the National Law or an authority in a co-regulatory jurisdiction may take disciplinary action under their relevant legislation.

Applications for a change in circumstances

If you hold limited registration and you want to apply for another type of limited registration, you must make a new application.

If you hold limited registration in public interest and you want to change your position (such as changing location, adding work sites, changing your scope of practice (including moving to a role with increased clinical responsibilities e.g. PGY3 to registrar level), applying for a new position with a new employer, etc.) within the same type of registration (i.e. limited registration in public interest), you must apply for approval of a change in circumstances.

Applications for a change in circumstances must be made on an approved form and you will be charged a fee. You must provide:

 - i. details about the principal supervisor and any co-supervisors

More information

Limited registration in public interest is usually a short-term type of registration. It is used infrequently and would be expected to be granted for a period of weeks rather than years. It is unlikely that renewal of registration would be necessary.

The Board determines whether or not it is in the public interest to register the practitioner. Examples of where it might be in the public interest to register a medical practitioner includes an unexpected situation where a natural disaster has occurred or a pandemic has been declared.

Limited registration in the public interest is not an alternative to limited registration for area of need. It must not be used to circumvent the requirement for Ministerial declaration of an area of need.

This is not an appropriate type of registration for medical practitioners who wish to practise long-term in Australia.

The Board establishes requirements under this standard to ensure safe and competent practice for the period of limited registration. The Board will record the requirements that apply to a medical practitioner granted limited registration on the Register of Medical Practitioners pursuant to section 225(p) of the National Law.

The AHPRA website (www.ahpra.gov.au) includes more detailed information about the requirements for:

- providing proof of identity
- certifying documents, and
- what to include in a curriculum vitae.

Authority

This registration standard was approved by the Australian Health Workforce Ministerial Council on 27 August 2015.

Registration standards are developed under section 38 of the National Law and are subject to wide-ranging consultation.
