What is going on?

How has this new 'gender ideology' so quickly clouded so many people's common sense and better judgement?

Now doctors are to be forced to make medical decisions based on ideology and brain-washing rather than knowledge and wisdom? Unbelievable!

What has happened to best practice?

Of course everyone needs to be treated with respect, sympathy and understanding.

But surely everyone is entitled to best advice with full explanation and possible choices.

When fear of prosecution trumps best medical practice we are heading in a dangerous direction indeed!

Please stand firm on centuries of civilised medical knowledge and progress, not hampered by cultural ideologies.
