

From: Stewart Hoseason-Smith
To: medboardconsultation
Subject: Proposed Code of Conduct,
Date: Tuesday, 31 July 2018 4:14:58 PM

Dear Sir Madam,

Referring to the Proposed Code of Conduct,

I say No to this so called "culturally safe" practices and code of conduct.

In this change and not going into all the things wrong with it , it looks like you are forcing the Proposed Code of Conduct onto the medical profession. Remember your oath! "Do no Harm"

The doctor is a human being with the right to be true to his/her beliefs and standards, not a machine for the patient to employ to their own ends.

Isn't at least part of a doctor's role to give his/her patient sound advice concerning the health of the patient?

Trying to please one group by imposing their rights on the the rest of the population does nothing but endanger the entire society.

These changes seem quite unnecessary and also have the potential to cause great harm.

Please remember "Do no Harm" first.

Stewart Hoseason-Smith