To Whom It May Concern,

Re: Sexual boundaries: A guide for doctors and patients

Thank you for circulating the Sexual boundaries: A guide for doctors and patients, for comment. The College has reviewed the guide and strongly supports the principles behind the guide.

The College has a strong position on psychiatrists and proven sexual boundaries violations. We feel this guide would complement our current policies and help inform patients, carers and the community about best practice in the medical profession.

We look forward to hearing from AHPRA about progress on this guide once it has been finalised.

Yours sincerely

Dr Maria Tomasic
President
