I want to voice my big concern about the draft revised code of conduct for medical doctors in Australia.

The proposed provisions contravene the basic rights of a doctor to inform and treat patients to the best of their ability.

Doctors should have the freedom of thought and speech. They have a moral duty to express their beliefs.

Please do not take away the rights of doctors who are there to give patients the best independent advice.

The proposed changes of the code should not be accepted because it fosters bad medical practice and our community will suffer greatly as a result.

Thank you for considering my points.
