

From: drcameronaltmann
Sent: Thursday, 30 April 2015 11:03 PM
To: newsletters
Subject: cosmetic surgery

Anyone who does not hold an FRACS should not be able to call themselves a surgeon, cosmetic or otherwise...
end of story.

Anyone with GP qualifications who wishes to dabble in cosmetic procedures should only be allowed to call themselves "Cosmetic GP 's ".

This would solve the problem of GP's attempting procedures way beyond their level of training and expertise.