REGISTRATION STANDARD: LIMITED REGISTRATION FOR TEACHING OR RESEARCH

Summary

This registration standard sets out the Medical Board of Australia's (the Board) requirements for an application for, and renewal of, limited registration for teaching or research.

Does this standard apply to me?

This standard applies to individuals who apply for:

- limited registration for teaching or research, or
- renewal of limited registration for teaching or research.

Individuals who are qualified for general registration and/or specialist registration are not eligible for limited registration.

What must I do?

When you apply for registration

To meet this registration standard, you must:

1. meet the requirements in the Board's approved registration standards for:
  - a. English language skills
  - b. recency of practice
  - c. professional indemnity insurance, and
  - d. continuing professional development
2. comply with the Board's proof of identity policy as published on either the Board or the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) websites

An approved course of study means that you must be able to demonstrate that you have completed a medical curriculum of at least four academic years (full-time equivalent), leading to an entitlement to registration in the country issuing the degree to practise clinical medicine
4. provide evidence that you have applied for, or have the results of, primary source verification of medical qualifications from the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG) International Credentials Service (EICS)
5. provide evidence of successful completion of a medical internship or comparable. The Board may issue guidance on what defines a comparable medical internship
6. provide a curriculum vitae that meets the standard format that has been approved by the Board
7. provide details of past registration history:
  - a. you are also required to arrange for the Board to receive certificates of good standing/registration status (or equivalent type of certificate) from each registration authority that you have been registered with in the previous 10 years. The certificates should be supplied where possible directly to the Board from the relevant registration authority.
8. satisfactorily complete a criminal history check in accordance with guidance issued from time to time by the Board or AHPRA
9. provide the following information from your proposed employer or sponsor (if not employed):
  - a. written confirmation of offer of employment or other engagement
  - b. employer or sponsor contact details

This should also contain details of the teaching or research activities and any clinical practice that will be undertaken
  - d. name, qualifications and contact details of the proposed principal supervisor and any

co-supervisors, if clinical practice will be undertaken

- e. a supervision plan, if clinical practice will be undertaken. The supervision plan should be prepared in accordance with the Board's guidelines for supervision of international medical graduates. The supervision plan includes details about the supervisor/s and will describe how supervision will be provided to ensure safe practice. It will also include written confirmation from the proposed principal supervisor that they agree to provide supervision and to comply with supervision obligations as required by the Board

(If you are applying for registration for less than four weeks to demonstrate a procedure or participate in a workshop, supervision is required but a detailed supervision plan does not need to be submitted.)

- f. a plan for continuing professional development activities in accordance with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development, if registration is for more than four weeks, and
- g. if you will be demonstrating a procedure or participating in a workshop:
  - i. details of the clinical activities that you will be doing
  - ii. the location/s of clinical activities
  - iii. the organisation that will auspice any demonstration or workshop, and
  - iv. signed confirmation from your proposed supervisor that they will take on the responsibility for the ongoing care of your patients when you are no longer practising in Australia. Where your proposed supervisor cannot provide ongoing care, provide signed confirmation from a local registered medical practitioner that they will take on the responsibility for the ongoing care of your patients when you are no longer practising in Australia.

All documents submitted to support an application for limited registration must comply with the requirements for certifying and translating documents as published on either the Board or AHPRA websites.

If you have previously been or are currently registered in a health profession in Australia under the National Scheme and have therefore provided information to a Board previously, some of the documentation requirements in this standard may be waived.

During the registration period

You are required to comply with a range of requirements while you have limited registration for teaching or research. These include:

1. compliance with the supervision plan approved by the Board, if you are undertaking clinical practice
2. compliance with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development (excludes practitioners demonstrating procedures or participating in workshops who have been granted registration for no more than four weeks)
3. ensuring that your supervisor/s provide regular reports to the Board regarding your work performance as described in the Board's guidelines for supervision of international medical graduates, if you are undertaking clinical practice
4. performing satisfactorily in the position for which you were registered to practise
5. restricting your practice to the Board approved position/s, and
6. working towards meeting the requirements for general or specialist registration if you intend to apply for more than three renewals of registration.

If you do not maintain your employment in the Board approved position for which limited registration for teaching or research was granted, you are unable to comply with the requirements on your practice and therefore cannot practise medicine until registration is granted for a new position.

When you apply for renewal

When you apply to renew your limited registration, you must:

REGISTRATION STANDARD: LIMITED REGISTRATION FOR TEACHING OR RESEARCH

1. complete a renewal of registration application that includes the annual renewal statement in accordance with the provisions in the National Law, section 109
2. demonstrate compliance with any conditions or undertakings imposed on your registration or requirements on your registration set by the Board
3. submit work performance reports in accordance with the Board's guidelines for supervision of international medical graduates
4. demonstrate that you have performed satisfactorily in the preceding registration period. This is usually demonstrated through the submission of work performance reports. The Board may also require you to complete an examination and/or assessment to demonstrate satisfactory performance, and
5. provide evidence that you are satisfactorily progressing towards meeting the requirements for general or specialist registration. You are exempt from this requirement if you will not apply for more than three renewals of registration.

Refusal to renew limited registration

The Board may refuse to renew your registration if:

1. you are no longer in the position for which registration was granted by the Board
2. you do not comply with the Board approved supervised practice plan and the Board's requirements for supervision, if you are undertaking clinical practice
3. you do not comply with the Board's registration standard for continuing professional development (excludes practitioners demonstrating procedures or participating in workshops who have been granted registration for no more than four weeks), or
4. significant or multiple deficiencies are identified in your practice, by the Board.

Period of limited registration

Up to 12 months of registration can be granted by the Board. The National Law states that limited registration may not be renewed more than three times. After three renewals of limited registration a medical practitioner who wishes to continue to practise will have to make a new application for registration.

What happens if I don't meet this standard?

The National Law establishes possible consequences if you don't meet this standard, including that:

- the Board can impose a condition or conditions on your registration or can refuse your application for registration or renewal of registration, if you do not meet a requirement in an approved registration standard for the profession (sections 82, 83 and 112 of the National Law), and
- registration standards, codes or guidelines may be used in disciplinary proceedings against health practitioners as evidence of what constitutes appropriate practice or conduct for the health profession (section 41 of the National Law).

If a practitioner with limited registration breaches any of the requirements of this registration standard, or any of the Board's registration standards, codes or guidelines, the Board may take action in respect of health, performance or conduct under Part 8 of the National Law or an authority in a co-regulatory jurisdiction may take disciplinary action under their relevant legislation.

Applications for a change in circumstances

If you hold limited registration and you want to apply for another type of limited registration, you must make a new application.

If you hold limited registration for teaching or research and you want to change your position (such as changing location, adding work sites, changing your scope of

    - iii. written confirmation from the proposed principal supervisor that they agree to provide supervision and comply with supervision obligations as required by the Board

standard for continuing professional development

- g. if you will be demonstrating a procedure or participating in a workshop, details of the clinical activities that you will be doing, the location/s of clinical activities and the organisation that will auspice any demonstration or workshop
2. a work report from your previous supervisor.

More information

Limited registration for teaching or research is an appropriate type of registration for international medical graduates who will be practising in a teaching or research position. Clinical practice is allowed if it is directly related to teaching or research. However, more than 50 per cent of the practice must be in teaching or research.

This is an appropriate type of registration for medical practitioners who are demonstrating a particular procedure or leading a workshop as they are teaching.

Medical practitioners who are wishing to practise in Australia for more than three renewals of registration should complete the requirements for general or specialist registration.

The Board establishes requirements under this standard to ensure safe and competent practice for the period of limited registration. The Board will record the requirements that apply to a medical practitioner granted limited registration on the Register of Medical Practitioners pursuant to section 225(p) of the National Law.

The AHPRA website (www.ahpra.gov.au) includes more detailed information about the requirements for:

- providing proof of identity
- certifying documents, and
- what to include in a curriculum vitae.
