

prodpcs - 3/08/2018 - 10:06:25 AM -

---

Full Name - Karen Mottley

Email - [REDACTED]

Phone - [REDACTED]

Phone Type - [Deprecated]

Address - [REDACTED]

Comments - Comments - [Registration Number: Not Supplied] [REDACTED] I am writing to ask why AHPRA has decided they have the right to tell a doctor what his opinions should be. I am really concerned to live in a world where a persons opinion should be legislated. It is just an opinion and that is all. I am referring to a disturbing report in the media that a doctor will go before the medical board for expressing his opinion and not for malpractice. I have seen some disgusting things in my life but this is going too far. I am concerned it will eventually be against the law to have a different opinion to what is legislated.

Web Enquiry attached to Service Request